Assignment 4

Part 1 Generating Content

Using Paul Thek's 'Teaching Notes' as a jumping off point begin to generate content for your zine. The zine should be your own writing, images or collages. What it shouldn't be is images downloaded from google. You should be making something new with this project and it's your chance to show your personality. Write down your interpretation of one or more of the questions and conceptualize how to turn your answers into a zine.

Task

Generate content, have enough text and images to fill your desired format for your zine. Begin to collect these at the beginning of the semester, and give yourself enough time to generate your content. Know that it always takes longer than you think and that you don't have to spend a lot of money on this assignment but you should spend time. The tone of your content should be sharable as we will trade with the class.

Part 2 Zine

You can use a photocopier for this project, collage or draw by hand and as well as utilize all the Adobe Creative Suite programs. There are scanners and copiers at your disposal. Think about your front and back cover and make sure to include your name and a title.

You have an option for size: Your zines could be 8.5 x 5.5in (example left half a letter sheet, and 16pages) or you can do an 11.5 x 17in one shot zine (see example left, 6 pages) consider colored or interesting paper stock and you should make enough copies to trade with everyone in the class. There will be a long armed stapler available for binding if you choose the half sheet. I will bring in some zines as samples for us to look at later in the semester and we will potentially check out the zines in the library's collection.

We will check in with your progress in class mid way through the semester Week 4 + 9 to see if you have enough content and this assignment's completion will account for 20% of your grade.

Task

Choose either or zine to make 8.5 x 5.5 – One shot Zine 11.5 x 17 – Folded Zine

Your zine should have text, images and original content.

This assignment is due completed Week 15

You should make enough copies to trade with the entire class
